EDMONTON BULLETIN, JUNE 25th, 1896.

TO THE ELECTORS OF ALBERTA.

GENTLEMEN: In acknowledging the high compliment you have paid me by electing me as your representative at Ottawa, allow me to say that this has been distinctly the peoples' fight and is therefore the peoples' victory. It is a demonstration by the producers of Alberta and those who are allied with them against neglect of the work of development of this country, against government by monopolies and against the rule of professional politicians—a demonstration all the more effective because it was not limited by considerations of locality, race or creed. The people of Alberta have united to make common cause for the common good. The honor of representing such a constituency is one that I most highly appreciate and the responsibility of which I most deeply feel. In the contest now at an end I did my best to win. I was one of many working energetically and enthusiastically for the same end. Now that the honor and responsibility have been placed upon me I will still do my best for the public good.

Respectfully yours,
FRANK OLIVER.

THE ELECTIONS.

The results of the elections of Tuesday turns another page in the history of Canada. It is an expression of opinion that cannot be mistaken. It is not a defeat of the conservative party. That party was defeated when Sir Charles Tupper retained office last winter, and his home means which he knew would be his in the elections are the defeat of the Tupper party and the Tupper party is not a political party in which he has resided in Alberta as well as in the remote undeveloped parts of the province. His defeat may have been the facts in regard to Sir Charles Tupper or his political career, there is no doubt that his home stood for the worst features and the worst of Canadian politics and that a majority of over 40 has been turned into a minority of nearly the same number shows that the people of Canada are tired of that kind of politics. They have awakened—or rather perhaps they have grown—to the fact politics should be something else than robbery, and that parties are just what the people make them. New men and new methods have come in. It is not too much to hope that a new era has dawned and that from this election forward we are to have a united Canada, whose public men will look at public matters and deal with public questions from a national, not from a purely provincial stand point. It has been Canada's good or ill-fortune to number amongst her sons, men of the highest ability who were trained in the school of provincial politics before confederation. The result has been that as long as these men held a leading position in national affairs those affairs were considered from a provincial rather than a national point of view. Their superior abilities and the provincial jealousies that ranked in the minds of many of the people for years after confederation enabled them to keep a controlling hand upon the political thought of Canada. In the course of nature some of these great men have passed away, and at the same time there has grown up a constantly increasing proportion of the electorate who only know Canada as a country stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific; who while recognizing fully the necessity for its being divided into provinces, give their first loyalty to the country instead of to the province. Under these circumstances old issues have been to a certain extent forgotten, old election cries have ceased to excite enthusiasm, people are looking forward rather than backward, and when the Tupper party could offer nothing for the most unsavory part of the record of the conservative party the country made its choice quickly and emphatically. The people of Canada are not asleep or dreaming. They are hard workers, thrifty, intelligent, energetic, enterprising and ambitious. Let it be glossed over or excused as it may, the progress of Canada during the past twenty years has not been satisfactory to the people, or what might have reasonably been expected under exceptionally favorable circumstances, to say nothing of the extravagant promises made at different times by the government on behalf of their protective and railroad policies. These promises had utterly failed of fulfillment. The feeling was strong that the country had been humbugged—as it certainly had been robbed—and that a change must necessarily be for the better.

Just as Sir Charles Tupper's name stood for the worst side of politics, Mr. Laurier's stood for the best side. His stand has always been that of a statesman and a patriot rather than a mere politician. His whole force has always been on the side of Canadian nationalism and against mere provincialism. Holding strongly to the principle of provincial rights, he respects those rights as a means of securing the solidity of confederation, not as a means of advancing the interests or prestige of one province at the expense of the others. He has been accorded the confidence of the Canadian people not on any flashy worded policy of promises, but simply in manifestation of their belief in his honesty of purpose to do the best that can be done for the welfare and prosperity of Canada, and as a means of ridding the ship of state of the aggregation of barnacles which have clung to it so long as to have come to believe that they are a necessary part of it while being the greatest impediment to its progress.

The result of the contest in Alberta has been a surprise to many, not only in the majority rolled up for the opponent of the government in the supposed to be perfectly safe government constituency, but in the unanimity of feeling shown on the subject throughout the district. If locality had entered into the question the government candidate residing near the centre of the district would have had a great advantage. South as well as centre and north stamped their disapproval on the introduction of election tactics into Alberta that have been so long a disgrace to the United States. The idea of purchasing or packing a party convention seemed to be a most brilliant one, and it succeeded as far as the convention was concerned, but when it came to carrying the constituency, that was quite another affair as the election returns show. The victory of the editor of this paper is a victory for clean politics in this constituency that reflects the highest credit upon the people of this the most important agricultural constituency in the Dominion.

ELECTION RETURNS.

The following is a list of returns corrected according to the latest telegrams received, and may be altered in some few instances when final returns arrive. The last message stated the present balance of parties in the new House of Commons to be: Liberals, 130; Conservatives, 83; Patrons, 5; McCarthyites, 2; Independent, 2. A comparison of these figures with the detailed list below will show a slight difference, which will no doubt be corrected by later telegrams. The above summary gives a total of 211 members, leaving two places to be heard from, viz. Algoma and Chicoutimi & Saguenay, in each of which the election takes place on June 30th.

BY-LAW NO. 116.

A By-Law to authorize the Municipality of the Town of Edmonton to subscribe for shares to the amount of $50,000.00 in the capital stock of the Edmonton District Railway Company.

Whereas, a petition signed by at least three-fourths in number of the resident ratepayers of the Municipality of the Town of Edmonton, entitled to vote on by-laws requiring the assent of the electors, has been presented to the Municipal Council of the said Municipality for the passing and the enactment of a by-law to authorize the Municipality of the Town of Edmonton to subscribe for shares to the amount of $50,000.00 in the capital stock of the Edmonton District Railway;

And Whereas, the said, the Edmonton District Railway Company, contains the contracting, maintaining and operating a line of railway near to and within the Municipality, and the Municipality is, in the opinion of the Municipal Council, interested therein;

And Whereas, it is deemed expedient that the Municipality should subscribe for shares in the said, the Edmonton District Railway Company to an amount not exceeding $50,000.00, subject to such conditions to be agreed upon between the Municipality and the Company, prior to such subscription as shall appear necessary and expedient to the Municipal Council for the protection of the interests of the said Municipality;

And Whereas, for the purpose aforesaid, it is necessary to borrow the amount of the sum to be subscribed for, either in one sum or in several sums from time to time, as it becomes necessary to pay the calls upon the stock of the said company;

And Whereas, it is expedient that the subscription money when raised shall be raised by the issue of debentures aggregating the said sum of $50,000.00, payable in twenty years, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. payable half yearly;

And Whereas, the amount of the whole rateable property of the Municipality, according to the last revised assessment roll, is $1,131,780.00;

And Whereas, the total amount of the existing debt of the Municipality, outside of the debt due for the current expenses of the year, is $18,510.88, incurred for land improvements, and $50,555.00 for permanent improvements, making in the whole the sum of $69,065.88, whereof no part is in arrears;

And Whereas, it is expedient to provide for the payment of the principal of the said debentures by the creation of an equal yearly sinking fund;

And Whereas, the total amount to be raised annually, by special rate for the paying of the said debt, by means of a sinking fund as aforesaid, and the interest thereon as aforesaid, is $4,842.00;

And Whereas, the annual special rate on the dollar as being sufficient to pay the said interest and to create the said equal yearly sinking fund for the payment of the said debt is 3-6-10 mills;

Therefore, the Mayor and Council of the Municipality of the Town of Edmonton in Council assembled, enact as follows:

1. This By-law is to take effect on the first day of June, 1906.

2. The Mayor and Clerk of the Municipality are hereby authorized to issue debentures of the Municipality to the aggregate amount of $50,000.00, payable within twenty years from the day of the date on which this by-law takes effect, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable half yearly, such debentures to be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the Municipality of the Town of Edmonton, and to be attached to them coupons for the payment of interest.

3. For the purpose of paying the amount which shall be required to be raised annually for the payment of the said interest and the equal yearly sinking fund to be set apart for the payment of the principal sum of $50,000.00, a special rate of 3-6-10 mills on the dollar, over and above all other rates and taxes, shall be levied in the same manner and at the same times as the general Municipal taxes, upon the whole rateable property in the Municipality, in each year for the period of twenty years, during which the said debentures shall be current.

4. The said debentures, when so issued as aforesaid, shall be deposited with the Treasurer of the Municipality, and the same, or the proceeds thereof, shall be by him delivered to the Edmonton District Railway Company, only after the passing of, and according to the provisions of a by-law to be hereafter passed by the Municipal Council of the said Municipality, and the Edmonton District Railway Company.

EDMONTON JUBILANT.

The electors of Edmonton on Tuesday fulfilled the expectations of Oliver's committee in every respect. When the poll opened at 9 a. m., a crowd of about 50 were waiting to gain admission. In the booth Mr. Stephen, returning officer, had arranged for three votes to be taken at once in three separate rooms. A. G. Randall was poll clerk. H. H. Robertson scrutineer for Mr. Cochrane, and Jas. McDonald and J. Ross for Mr. Oliver. Polling was brisk till noon when nearly three hundred votes had been polled. Rigs were busy on both sides and every effort was made to poll every vote. There were one or two attempts to poll at two stations but they were frustrated, in one case by means of a race between the rigs, between Edmonton and Rat Creek. Soon after five o'clock the first return arrived from Rat Creek giving Oliver 51 votes and Cochrane 20. Edmonton gave Oliver 187 and Cochrane 126. Seven rejected ballots. By eight o'clock the reports showed a majority for Oliver of 369 and the liberal began to feel that their man was safe. Their opponents had used Mr. McInnis' office all day as a committee room and rendezvous for voters before and after going to the poll. Cochrane's committee were very busy and deserve credit for the way in which they tried to ensure votes for their candidate, but as soon as the returns began to come in the felt that they were in a hopeless minority. At South Edmonton Mr. Oliver was present at the counting of the ballots and found 163 for himself and 86 for Cochrane. Stony Plain is the banner division with a majority of 134 for Oliver out of a vote of 174. Excitement ran high in the evening in Edmonton and South Edmonton. In Edmonton the Young Albertans, who have caused so many anxious moments to the conservatives during the contest, had made every preparation for a demonstration worthy of themselves, the town, and the candidate. The band was ordered out, a carriage provided, and a hundred torches lit. Mr. Oliver was conducted to the carriage, and himself, Mr. McCauley, chairman of Oliver's committee, Frank Osborne, president, and J. A. Shera, vice-president of the Young Albertans, were drawn by enthusiastic and jubilant supporters of Oliver behind the band who led a torchlight procession of hundreds of men through the town. Continuous cheering for Oliver and lively sallies were indulged in throughout the march. The procession finally drew up outside the Queen's Hotel where Mr. Oliver spoke from the balcony. It was some time before he could commence speaking on account of the tremendous cheers. When he did speak he thanked them for the high honor they had done him. He was glad that Alberta had shown that it was no longer a pocket constituency. He was proud of his position that night, not because he deserved it, but because his return was so firm and convincing a declaration to all Canada that Alberta's interests must receive the attention they deserve. He could only assure them that their splendid enthusiasm made that moment the grandest and proudest of his life and he would do his utmost in the future to prove that their confidence was not misplaced. The crowd cheered again and again during Mr. Oliver's short address and when he finished escorted him again to the carriage which was drawn behind the band to the committee rooms where the band played the national anthem and the crowd broke up with cheers for Oliver, the Queen, South Edmonton, Stony Plain and other places. The contest which has been so warm and hard is now ended and Alberta is in line with the rest of the country and will have a member in sympathy with the government after all, though the conservative speakers all claimed that Mr. Cochrane should be returned because it was necessary for our member to be in sympathy with the government. Wisdom had been justified in her children in Alberta. Now that it is over the conservatives are shaking hands with the liberals and congratulating them on their success. Very few complaints of unfairness have come to hand. South Edmonton vote would have been twenty more in favor of Oliver had not the names of that number of qualified voters been left off the list. Strong complaints are made about the way in which the list for this division was compiled.

The Alberta Hotel had the telegraph operator in the billiard room to receive the returns while the Young Albertans had arranged with the operator in South Edmonton to telephone returns to their rooms. Both parties were busy receiving returns till after midnight and it was only when the liberal triumph was assured that they went home.

CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

(Special to the Edmonton Herald.)
Calgary, June 26th, 1896.
Reports from all points in south and central Alberta are now to hand and most encouraging, indicating a conservative majority in nearly every polling division and insuring a large general majority for the conservative candidate. Lethbridge, Macleod, Cardston, Pincher Creek, Banff, Canmore, Glenora and other points all certain of majorities for Cochrane, ranging from 25 to 150. In Calgary itself the last few days have witnessed a tremendous turnover, the conservative committee kept busy receiving new names that were formerly lukewarm or opposed. Most careful estimates based on thorough canvases concede overwhelming majority in Calgary for Cochrane. If with constitutions can hold, their own Cochrane's election should be unquestioned.

The above clipping from the Herald is one more instance of misplaced confidence.

A telegram from London of June 26th, says: Telegram received from Bulawayo indicate that the Mashonas have joined the Matabele rising and the situation is much more grave. There are numerous cases of isolated settlers being massacred. The people around Salisbury and Fort Charter have been ordered into laager. The whole Mazoe district is full of revolt. A dispatch to the Chronicle from Bulawayo says that the situation is so serious that the Cape Mounted infantry has been ordered to make home land, and the imperial troops have been ordered up from Macking.
